Forecast For Southwest England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Sunday 27 Jun 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Rain continuing, heavy and thundery at times.

This Evening and Tonight:
Heavy and persistent rain will continue slowly moving north into the evening and overnight, lingering along northern coasts, gradually clearing for most after dawn. A mild night with the odd possible rumble of thunder. Minimum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Monday:
Early rain clearing ahead of sunshine and showers. Some showers will be heavy in the afternoon and evening with hail and thunder possible. Humid, and feeling warm in the sunshine. Maximum temperature 22 deg C (72 deg F).

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:
Often cloudy with outbreaks showers and risk of thunder, heaviest in the east, on Tuesday. Becoming drier and brighter thereafter but still the odd, lighter shower possible.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.